Report of Committee on Temperance and Public Morals

Believing that the Bible prescribes the manner of conduct for all who would live the Christian life, and recognizing the importance of setting a standard for proper conduct for our people, we, your Committee on Temperance and Public Morals, do make the following report:

We deplore the tendency toward a restriction of religious freedom guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States. Leaving God out of their national life will bring us to a deplorable condition as a people, and the substitution of social activities, movies and other features for worship is largely responsible for the spiritual poverty in America. We deplore further the tendency toward promotion of material prosperity in our nation without regard to the proper place of true religin and spirituality in a return to improved economic conditins, and we call upon our people to renew their faith in God and His plan for our lives that our national recovery may be upon a sound foundation.

Once more our nation is engaged in selling of alcoholic and habit forming beverages in an attempt to provide revenue for financing of governmental affairs. The wide-spread efforts of liquor and tobacco manufacturers among children to encourage the use of alcoholic beverages and cigaretts is deplored. We call upon our people to exert more activity to safeguard our children and young people from these iniquitious practices. We find the forces of evil—selfishness, greed racketeering, unfair competetion—sapping the spiritual strength of the nation.

We oppose the oppression of labor by capital and pray for a day when the laborer and the capitalist may come to an adjustment of their differences, that both may have equitable returns for their labor and investment.

We recommend:

That our people walk circumspectly, watching their daily lives with diligence, setting an example of Christian citizenship in the home, in the community and nation.

That in all our homes there be resurrected the family altar and an effort be directed toward a more systematic instruction of the children intrusted to our care "to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." We are also mindful of the injunction to parents "not to provoke their children to anger."

That we re-affirm our opposition to the liquor traffic and appeal to our people to maintain a firm stand against any attempt to repeal the prohibition laws of the State of Norh Carolina, and to cooperate with the officers of the law in stamping out the drink evil. We ask our sheriffs and police officials to double their vigilence, our solicitors to prosecute more vigorously persons charged with violating the prohibition laws, appeal to judges for more severe punishment for violaters, and ask all citizens to join the dry legions in demanding better enforcement.

We call upon our people to unite in the state-wide day of prayer on the day preceeding the opening of the North Carolina Legislature in 1935, urging our legislators to give their vote and support to better enforcement of our dry laws and the retention of the Turlington Act.

We urge our children and young people to sign pledges not to begin the use of alcohol and tobacco.

We request our people to always stand for the sanctity of the home and fight the tendency to all forms of immorality.

Respectfully submitted,

James W. Butler,
M. D. Sellers,
M. H. Alexander,
Committee.

Report of P. Y. P. S. Commttee

We wish to express our gratitude to God for the young people among us and also for the P. Y. P. S. organized in their behalf, as well as the rich blessings of our heavenly Father upon the same, considering which we recommend:

1. That all our churches organize and encourage the P. Y. P. S.
2. That the programs be varied and deeply spiritual.
3. That the Conference officials appoint in each quarterly conference district a district chairman and secretary.
4. We insist that the local societies send a quarterly report to the president and secretary-treasurer.
5. That the P. Y. P. S. annual convention be continued.
6. That special effort be made to supply the young people with good books which will strengthen their morals and build up their Christian character.

I. D. Dickens,
Mrs. W. H. Turner,
W. B. Godwin.

Report of Sunday School Committee

Realizing the great importance of Christian education and knowing that the Sunday School is one channel through which this can be carried on, we recommend,

1. The election of a Conference Sunday School Superintendent, whose duties shall be to visit the schools, hold S. S. conferences, teach, instruct, help and encourage them in all phases of work in which it is possible for them to engage and,
2. This office or position shall be permanent.
3. That all schools have weekly teachers training classes which shall include Bible study, and invite the public to attend.
4. We appeal to each pastor to please read these recommendations to the schools and help to set them in operation.
5. We most eanestly ask that superintendents and teachers endeavor to make the schools beautiful with order, interesting in Bible study and intensely evangelistic withall, making everyone welcome who may attend.

I. D. Dickens,
Mrs. W. H. Turner,
W. B. Godwin.

Report of Committee on Education

We, your Committee on Education, beg leave to submit the following report:

Whereas, there is noted great progress in the educational systems of our country, and

Whereas, there is much rivalry, apparently, among the colleges in soliciting students, and

Whereas, scores and hundreds of our young people are striving for an education, and

Whereas, we are endeavoring to offer them such advantages at our church school and college, at Franklin Springs, Ga., which we are trying to build and operate and which will offer such course or courses of study as may be necessary to educate mind and heart in harmony with the Holy Scriptures and build in our young people such an education that will fit and prepare them to fill any and all of jobs or such positions in life in a Christian as well as honorable manner,

Therefore, we recommend:

1. That we pray for the blessings of Almighty God upon Franklin Springs Institute.

2. That we labor for and co-operate with the School Board to make the school a success.

3. That we, as individuals, as well as a Conference, give of our means to its support in building and operating the school.

4. That one-fifth (1-5) of the money donated into the General Conference treasury be donated to the school.

5. That, inasmuch as those who believe in the Holy Scriptures, as well as the Holy Bible itself, are being criticized, persecuted, and despised, and the Bible, in some schools and colleges is being misinterpreted and denied, it is all the more necessary that we, as a Conference and Church, offer to our people an institution which believes and teaches the Holy Bible.

Respecfully submitted,

J. W. Berry,
A. H. Butler,
W. H. Morris,
Committee.

Report of Committee on Finance

Our freedom and inspiration in spiritual life, are always in harmony with the extent we commit our way unto the Lord.

Likewise in God's word, we are specifically told that material blessings are assured to those who take the word of God as their rule of practice. "If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land, but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured." "Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say wherein have we robbed Thee?" The Lord tells us, viz., "In tithes and in offerings." Since, if we fail at this point, we are guilty and therefore cursed, therefore we recommend the following:

1. That each member pay tithes into the treasury of the local church of which he is a member.

2. Also that free-will offerings be taken following the bringing in of the tithes weekly.

3. No member of a local church shall be permitted to hold office in the church which has a tithing system unless such a member is in harmony with the tithing system.

4. That each church and mission have a missionary society, and take at least one offering each month for foreign missions. Also that all members be urged to pay not less than a penny a day for missions.

5. That the members of this Conference shall pay at least fifty per cent of the tithes received from ministerial work into the conference treasury. Those who fail to do so shall not be eligible to any official position in the conference.

6. That each local church, immediately after the session of the annual conference, shall devise some budgetary system for the support of all phases of the work of the church.

7. That the first tithes from the annual conference treasury be paid into the general conference treasury, and the second tithes be used to evangelize new territory.

8. That the following amounts be paid from the conference treasury at the present session. For General Supt. $200.00, for Conference Secretary $25.00, for Conference Treasurer $25.00, for printing Minutes $75.00, and for missions $25.00.

C. B. Strickland,
N. J. Medford,
W. E. Morris.

Report of Committee on Orphanage Work

Since "to visit the fatherless and widows in their afflictions" is an essential evidence of "pure and undefiled religion before God and the Father," we, your Committee on Orphanage work, submit, the following suggestions:

1. That all our churches, and Sunday Schools be urged to make a liberal offering on or near Thanksgiving Day for orphanage work.

2. That all such special Thanksgiving offerings be made in cooperation with the N. C. Orphanage Association that appeal to every citizen of N. C. to contribute an amount equal to one day's wages, or one day's profit from their business or profession, to the orphanage of their choice.

3. That we re-affirm our sympathy for an interest in the work of the Falcon Orphanage and recommend it to the favorable consideration of all our people as being worthy of our most liberal support.

4. Since the years of depression have caused such a falling off in our contributions to the orphanage as to leave a deficit in its operation; and the necessity of operating its own high school faculties has greatly increased its expenses, we urge all ur churches and Sunday Schools to make as liberal offerings each month to this work as can be consistent with our ability and the proper consideration for other phases of our work.

5. In view of the fact that cotton is our principal money crop and we are cut to such a small allotment, it makes it hard for our churches in the rural districts to have much cash, therefore we urge such churches to make up loads of provisions as often as God may lead, and deliver without expense to the orphanage when possible.

Respectfully submitted,

H. C. King,
D. J. Little,
J. A. Howard.

Report of Committee on Memoirs of Rev. S. D. Page

We would not be natural or human if we felt no sadness in memorializing those who are dear to us after that they have been separated from us; but in the case of one like our brother, Rev. S. D. Page, we, your Committee, feel honored in being permitted to express for you, as best we can, the love and esteem in which this Conference held our departed brother and friend. We realize our words will not be adequate to the full expression that we would like to make, as the years of sacrificial and loyal service and the faithfulness with which Brother Page rendered that service, would make him worthy of a deeper appreciation and a higher esteem than we can give expression to.

As we think of his life and service so fruitful in good works and deeds of kindness, and his strong and assuring testimonies concerning his faith and experiences; and remember his humble walk with God and unassuming spirit that characterized his life, we "sorrow not as those who have no hope," but rather find comfort in those assurances of a like precious faith and hope that anchors our own souls "within the veil." Those of us who were in position to appreciate him more and love him better, would not hesitate to say, as Paul wrote to the Philippians, it was far better for him to depart and be with Christ, nevertheless it was more needful for us that he abide in the flesh, that his life and ministry might have continued to be an inspiration and example for us. He lived in that spirit and attitude of Paul that enabled him to say, "Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death." His strong and uncompromising testimony to trust God with his body, regardless of whether he lived or died, gave him the opportunity to apparently die a martyr for the truth of healing as in the atonement, without ever turning to the arm of flesh for help. We may not be able to go so far as he in declaring our determination never to resort to medicine for help in sickness, but we can not fail to admire such unfaltering faith in him, and we feel sure that he was included in that number of whom it is said, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." We could memorialize Brother Page upon the authority of Jesus, who so appreciated the deed of the woman who broke the alabaster box and anointed Him, that He said, wheresoever the gospel shall be preached, her deed shall be told as a memorial of her; for in like manner Brother Page had nothing in his possession too dear or precious for him to give it unto the Lord, and many were the generous gifts that he made. He could also be memoralized in a similar manner to that of Dorcas, when the widows stood round about her dead body and wept, showing the garments which she had made for them during her life time, for Brother Page helped many a poor person during his life, not only by individual gifts and favors, but in spiritual ministry, carrying the light of holiness into many dark places, building churches in isolated communities, contributing to camp meetings and orphanages and any worthy institution established for the uplift of humanity and the building up of God's kingdom. He fought a good fight, he kept the faith, he finished his course, and went home to receive the crown of a faithful steward. May we live so as to meet him, with all the redeemed of the Lord, in the day when all His jewels shall be gathered.

J. M. Howell,
Mrs. Berta Maxwell,
J. A. Culbreth,
Committee.

Report of Committee on Missions and Evangelism

We, your Committee on Missions and Evangelism, appreciate the great work that has been accomplished in the spread of the Gospel both in homeland and in the foreign fields. But in view of the vast fields that are now white already unto harvest, we do humbly beseech each member of this Conference to give their most earnest and careful attention to the following recommendations:

1. That one service be held at each Annual Conference in behalf of Foreign Missions.

2. That the cause of missions be presented at each of the Quarterly Conferences during the year.

3. That each evangelist preach at least one sermon and take one offering in behalf of foreign missions during each meeting and wherever he finds a church that does not have a Missionary Society seek to organize one.

4. That each pastor strive earnestly to help his church realize the great need of the lost world by preaching at least one sermon each quarter on foreign missions and by encouraging his members, to be active in evangelizing the new fields in adjoining communities.

5. That where money is not available, the members of each local church sell or cause to be sold any vegetables or other produce that they might have and let the proceeds be used for foreign missions.

6. That each pastor take an active part in organizing a missionary society in each of his churches, urging each member to join.

7. That the president of each missionary society keep himself (or herself) informed as to all the present needs of the fields and present them in the way he deems best to the society.

8. That the deacons and pastors cooperate with the president of missionary societies in having the regular missionary programs and allowing nothing to hinder the offerings.

9. That a special fund be set apart in the Conference Treasury for the purpose of aiding in the evangelization of new territory within the bounds of North Carolina Conference.

10. That every evangelist seek to enter new territory, even though it has to be done by great self denial and sacrifice.
